Panasonic Announces Company Split (Simplified Absorption Type) to Integrate Management Business of Subsidiary of Panasonic Industrial Devices Taiko Co., Ltd., a Wholly-Owned Subsidiary

Osaka, Japan, February 25, 2016 – Panasonic Corporation ([TSE:6752] “Panasonic”) today announced that its Board of Directors has decided to succeed management business of subsidiary of Panasonic Industrial Devices Taiko Co., Ltd. (“PIDTA”) (the “Business”), a wholly-owned consolidated subsidiary of Panasonic, through an absorption-type company split (the “Company Split”). The Company Split is expected to take effect on March 31, 2016. Details of the Company Split are outlined below.

The Company Split will be conducted through a simplified absorption-type company split to succeed a part of wholly-owned subsidiary, accordingly, some of the matters and details for disclosure relating to the Company split have been omitted.

1. Purpose of the Company Split

Panasonic Industrial Devices Taiko Shenzhen Co., Ltd. (“PIDTASZN”) in Guangdong Province of the People’s Republic of China (China), which is the objective of the PIDTA’s management business, mainly engages in the production and sales of products designed by PIDTA, such as automotive relays. Targeting the growing automotive market in China, PIDTASZN will expand its product lineup in addition to automotive relays, including automotive switches, sensors, other than the products designed by PIDTA.

With the Company Split, the Company intends to accelerate the expansion of the product lineup and establish a more efficient governance structure. It will also aim to achieve continuous business growth and increase the Company’s value by utilizing management resources within the group.

2. Summary of the Company Split

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|---|
| (1) Schedule of the Company Split | |
| February 25, 2016 | Resolution of the Board of Directors on the Company Split |
| February 25, 2016 | Execution of the Company Split agreement |
| March 31, 2016 (planned) | Effective date of the Company Split |

(Note: Since, for Panasonic, the Company Split falls under a simplified absorption-type company split, as set forth in Article 796, Paragraph 2 of the Companies Act, and for PIDTA, the Company Split falls under a short form absorption-type company split as set forth in Article 784, Paragraph 1 of the Companies Act, resolutions of shareholders' meetings of both companies concerning approval of the absorption-type company split will not be held.)

- (2) Method of the Company Split
The Company Split is an absorption-type company split in which PIDTA is the splitting company and Panasonic is the succeeding company (simplified absorption-type company split).
- (3) Allotment of shares in relation to the Company Split
There shall be no allotment of shares or other consideration upon the Company Split.
- (4) Treatment of stock acquisition rights and bonds with stock acquisition rights upon the Company Split
PIDTA has not issued any stock acquisition rights or bonds with stock acquisition rights.
- (5) Increase or decrease in stated capital as a result of the Company Split
There shall be no increase or decrease in the stated capital of Panasonic as a result of the Company Split.
- (6) Rights and obligations to be transferred to the succeeding company
Panasonic will succeed to all the equity interest that PIDTA holds in PIDTASZN in relation to the Business.
- (7) Prospects for performance of liabilities
Panasonic believes that there will be no concern in fulfilling its obligations required to be performed after the effective date of the Company Split.

Disclaimer Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This press release includes forward-looking statements (that include those within the meaning of Section 27A of the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934), as amended about Panasonic and its Group companies (the Panasonic Group). To the extent that statements in this press release do not relate to historical or current facts, they constitute forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are based on the current assumptions and beliefs of the Panasonic Group in light of the information currently available to it, and involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors. Such risks, uncertainties and other factors may cause the Panasonic Group's actual results, performance, achievements or financial position to be materially different from any future results, performance, achievements or financial position expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements. Panasonic undertakes no obligation to publicly update any forward-looking statements after the date of this press release. Investors are advised to consult any further disclosures by Panasonic in its subsequent filings under the Financial Instrument and Exchange Act of Japan (the FIEA) and other publicly disclosed documents.

The risks, uncertainties and other factors referred to above include, but are not limited to, economic conditions, particularly consumer spending and corporate capital expenditures in the Americas, Europe, Japan, China and other Asian countries; volatility in demand for electronic equipment and components from business and industrial customers, as well as consumers in many product and geographical markets; the possibility that excessive currency rate fluctuations of the U.S. dollar, the euro, the Chinese yuan and other currencies against the yen may adversely affect costs and prices of Panasonic's products and services and certain other transactions that are denominated in these foreign currencies; the possibility of the Panasonic Group incurring additional costs of raising funds, because of changes in the fund raising environment; the possibility of the Panasonic Group not being able to respond to rapid technological changes and changing consumer preferences with timely and cost-effective introductions of new products in markets that are highly competitive in terms of both price and technology; the possibility of not achieving expected results or incurring unexpected losses in connection with the alliances or mergers and acquisitions; the possibility of not being able to achieve its business objectives through joint ventures and other collaborative agreements with other companies, including due to the pressure of price reduction exceeding that which can be achieved by its effort and decrease in demand for products from business partners which Panasonic highly depends on in BtoB business areas; the possibility of the Panasonic Group not being able to maintain competitive strength in many product and geographical areas; the possibility of incurring expenses resulting from any defects in products or services of the Panasonic Group; the possibility that the Panasonic Group may face intellectual property infringement claims by third parties; current and potential, direct and indirect restrictions imposed by other countries over trade, manufacturing, labor and operations; fluctuations in market prices of securities and other assets in which the Panasonic Group has holdings or changes in valuation of long-lived assets, including property, plant and equipment and goodwill, deferred tax assets and uncertain tax positions; future changes or revisions to accounting policies or accounting rules; the possibility of incurring expenses resulting from a leakage of customers' or confidential information from Panasonic's systems due to unauthorized access or a detection of vulnerability of network-connected products of the Panasonic Group; as well as natural disasters including earthquakes, prevalence of infectious diseases throughout the world, disruption of supply chain and other events that may negatively impact business activities of the Panasonic Group. The factors listed above are not all-inclusive and further information is contained in the most recent English translated version of Panasonic's securities reports under the FIEA and any other documents which are disclosed on its website.
